

[This page prints out on 1 sheet]

Your Toddler

Read this section to find out how toddlers grow and learn, and how you can help your child.

You may be very confused as to what to expect from your toddler. What is normal for a toddler? How should you treat your toddler? Will things be different because your toddler has a hearing loss? Read these sections to find answers to these questions and more.

How Your Toddler Grows and Changes

(<http://www.raisingdeafkids.org/growingup/toddler/grow.jsp>)

Children with hearing loss may follow different paths in growing up. This could be because they were born too early, or had other medical problems. Read this page to learn how your baby may grow.

How Your Toddler Learns

(<http://www.raisingdeafkids.org/growingup/toddler/learn.jsp>)
Toddlers learn from hearing people talk. Learn what kinds of simple, but important things your toddler may be missing out on.

How You Can Help Your Toddler

(<http://www.raisingdeafkids.org/growingup/toddler/help.jsp>)
All babies need love and attention. Your baby is no different. But you may have to show your baby what you mean more than saying it. Read this page to learn how to do this.

Going to Daycare

(<http://www.raisingdeafkids.org/growingup/toddler/godaycare/index.jsp>)
Many deaf children go to daycare. Find out more about helping your child have the best possible experience at daycare.

Deaf Awareness for Childcare Centers

(<http://www.raisingdeafkids.org/growingup/toddler/aware/index.jsp>)

Share this page with your Child's daycare providers. This will help them better understand how to help and interact with your child.

This page was last edited on December 13, 2004.

You can find this page online at:

<http://www.raisingdeafkids.org/growingup/toddler/>